Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops (CCCB)
VOTING AS CATHOLICS 2019 Federal Election Guide

Voting: A Right and Responsibility

Canadian Catholics are being called upon as citizens to exercise their right to vote. The Church encourages and reasserts its belief in "the political freedom and responsibility of citizens."<sup>1</sup> By exercising their right to vote, citizens fulfill their duty of choosing a government and at the same time send a clear signal to the candidates being presented by their political parties for election. The important time leading up to an election also provides Canadians with the opportunity to interact with fellow voters, one's neighbours, and the candidates themselves (particularly during their visits to neighbourhoods), raising awareness about the values, views, and concerns shared by Catholics across the country.

Political candidates are citizens, too. In addition, they assume responsibility for the well-being of the public. Their commitment and dedication are a generous contribution to society's common good. Indeed, the purpose of the political community is itself the common good, namely, "the sum of those conditions of [...] social life whereby people, families and associations more adequately and readily may attain their own perfection."<sup>2</sup>

Working to Build a Better Society

While Christian beliefs do not constitute a political platform, they can be seen as a prism through which to analyze and evaluate government policies, laws, and programs. The principles of respect for life from conception to natural death and of the dignity of the human person should influence how Christians assess a party's position on key moral issues. Choosing life also means being always concerned for the weakest among us – physically, economically, and socially. It likewise implies the protection of the most fundamental human rights, including the right to religious freedom and freedom of conscience.

A more just society is also built when we live in solidarity and dialogue with different social partners, including Indigenous Peoples, as well as by supporting families and ensuring adequate funding for education, healthcare, housing, and the prevention and treatment of addictions.

Working with fellow citizens to address social concerns is fundamentally built on a view of the person inherently belonging to a community. To ensure our communities are truly welcoming and humane, we must also combat all forms of poverty, which inevitably result in the segregation and isolation of individuals.

Canada in the World: Providing Leadership for Justice and Peace

Believing in justice and peace includes daring to take a stand against the arms trade and against human trafficking, which exploits young people and workers. It means entering into international treaties that respect the planet, our common home, as well as tirelessly working for the expansion of peace everywhere.

Voting Means Using Your Judgment

Exercising the right to vote means making informed and discerning judgments about the options available. There are times, however, when making a decision about who to vote for may prove very difficult. The Church reminds us that "in this context, it must be noted also that a well-formed Christian conscience does not permit one to vote for a political program or an individual law in which the fundamental content of faith and morals is replaced by the introduction of proposals differing from this content or opposing it."<sup>3</sup>

It is a sign of a healthy democratic community when informed and responsible citizens engage in an ongoing dialogue on major social issues with their political leaders. This is precisely the kind of community we should strive to support and develop. No less is expected of us, since all are called to take an active part in morally shaping the societies we inhabit and, Christians in particular, to defend the rights of those who are most vulnerable.

POKROVA, PROTECTION OF THE MOTHER OF GOD, WHITESAND CHURCH

This summer, it became apparent that the shingles on the church roof will require replacing very soon; otherwise, there will be leaking in the church. Fortunately, the metal covering the dome remains in good condition. The lowest bid is from Molnar Roofing in Yorkton at just under $21,700.00.

Thus far, before fund raising has even begun, $8,900.00 has been donated. It is hoped the remaining $12,700.00 could be collected over the winter so the work could begin as soon as possible in the spring, preventing damage to the church.

The Whitesand Parish is 106 years old. The current church was built in 1937, one of the driest years of the Depression, by our great-grandparents, grandparents and our parents. The Parish humbly asks for your monetary support and your prayers.

All donations will be tax deductible and accordingly, are to be made to the Eparchy of Saskatoon, marked for the Whitesand Church roof repair. Cornelia Kyba from the Eparchial office will then issue a cheque to the Whitesand Parish for each dollar donated and receipts will be provided. You may make your donation in memory of someone or on behalf of your family.

Please send or drop off your cheques to Doreen Clark, at 176 Sunset Drive N., Yorkton, SK S3N 3L1. Please call Doreen at work (306-783-8541) if you have any questions.
